TERMS AND CONDITIONS
DELTA COMMERCE ACADEMY

CMA (US) EXAMINATION COACHING / PREPARATORY COURSE

Version date: 02 Nov 2026

These Terms and Conditions ("Terms") govern the enrolment and participation of the undersigned student ("you" or "Student") in the CMA (US) examination coaching and preparatory course ("Course") offered under the brand name Delta Commerce Academy by Delta International Management Development Training ("Delta", "we" or "us"). By enrolling in the Course, you agree to be bound by these Terms.

1. Acceptance and Enrolment

1.1. By submitting a registration form, making payment, signing these Terms or otherwise confirming your participation, whether online or in person, you acknowledge that you have read, understood and agreed to these Terms.

1.2. Enrolment is subject to availability and is complete only after Delta has received the required registration information and the applicable Course fee, and has issued written confirmation of enrolment.

1.3. Delta may accept or reject an application where reasonably required, including where the applicant does not satisfy any communicated entry requirement, provides inaccurate information or where the Course is full or unavailable.

2. Nature and Scope of the Course

2.1. The Course is an educational coaching and examination-preparation programme intended to assist students in studying the subject areas covered by the Certified Management Accountant (CMA) certification programme administered by the Institute of Management Accountants ("IMA") in the United States. The Course may include lectures, guided study, practice questions, mock examinations, revision sessions and related learning support, as described in the Course information provided to the Student.

2.2. The Course is preparatory in nature. Delta is not the body that awards the CMA certification, does not conduct the CMA examinations and does not determine a candidate's eligibility, examination results or entitlement to certification.

2.3. Unless Delta has expressly disclosed and can substantiate a specific authorisation in writing, Delta does not represent that it is accredited, approved, endorsed, sponsored or affiliated with IMA or any other CMA certification or examination body. The names "CMA" and "Certified Management Accountant" are used solely to identify the external certification examination for which the Course provides preparation.

2.4. Enrolment in or completion of the Course does not constitute registration for the CMA examinations, confer IMA membership, award the CMA certification or any other professional qualification, or guarantee that the Student satisfies the eligibility requirements for the certification.

2.5. The Student is responsible for independently checking the current CMA programme requirements, including education and experience requirements, IMA membership requirements, examination registration procedures, examination windows, fees, deadlines and applicable policies, directly with IMA and/or its authorised examination service providers.

2.6. Delta may provide general guidance regarding the examination process as part of the Course. Such guidance is for information only and should not be treated as confirmation of the Student's eligibility or as a substitute for the official requirements published by IMA.

3. Course Delivery, Attendance and Student Responsibilities

3.1. The Course may be delivered online, in person or through a blended format, as notified by Delta. The timetable, duration, instructors, delivery platform and course structure will be communicated before or during enrolment.

3.2. The Student is responsible for attending scheduled sessions, participating appropriately, completing any recommended exercises and maintaining the independent study required for examination preparation. The Student should ensure access to suitable equipment, software and a reliable internet connection for online sessions.

3.3. If the Student is unable to attend a session, the Student should notify Delta as soon as reasonably practicable. Any access to recordings, replacement sessions or make-up classes is subject to the arrangements communicated by Delta for the relevant Course and is not guaranteed unless expressly stated in writing.

3.4. Delta may make reasonable changes to the timetable, instructor, delivery method, learning materials or sequence of topics where necessary. Delta will use reasonable efforts to notify Students of material changes.

3.5. The Student must provide accurate and complete registration details and promptly notify Delta of any change to those details.

4. Examinations and Certification

4.1. The Student must register for and pay separately for IMA membership, CMA examination fees, examination appointments, study resources or other third-party services unless a particular item is expressly stated in writing to be included in the Course fee.

4.2. Delta has no control over IMA's examination content, format, schedule, eligibility criteria, registration process, fees, scoring, pass marks, result release or certification decisions. These matters are determined by IMA and/or the relevant examination provider.

4.3. Delta does not guarantee that the Student will pass either or both parts of the CMA examination, achieve a particular score, complete the certification requirements within a particular period, obtain employment or secure any salary, promotion or other professional benefit.

4.4. Any practice questions, mock examinations, predicted questions, suggested answers or study plans supplied by Delta are learning aids only. They are not actual or guaranteed future examination questions and should not be treated as an indication of the questions that will appear in an examination.

4.5. The Student must comply with all IMA and examination-provider rules, including rules relating to candidate conduct, identity verification, confidentiality, examination security and prohibited materials. Delta is not responsible for any cancellation, disqualification, penalty or other consequence resulting from the Student's breach of those rules.

5. Course Fees and Payment

5.1. The Course fee and any applicable taxes will be communicated to the Student at the time of enrolment. Fees must be paid in full before the Course commences unless Delta has agreed to an instalment or deferred payment arrangement in writing.

5.2. Any agreed instalment or deferred payment arrangement must be complied with on the due dates communicated by Delta. Delta may suspend access to sessions, materials or other Course services where a payment remains overdue, subject to applicable law.

5.3. The Course fee covers only the services and materials expressly identified by Delta as included. It does not include IMA membership, CMA examination fees, examination appointment fees, third-party study materials, travel, accommodation or other incidental expenses.

5.4. Enrolment is not confirmed until the registration requirements and payment arrangements under clause 1.2 have been completed.

5.5. Refunds, cancellations and withdrawals shall be governed by Delta's applicable Payment and Refund Policy. Any refund, where applicable, shall be subject to the terms of that policy and the applicable laws of the United Arab Emirates.

5.6. Delta may withhold or suspend Course services in the event of payment default, material misrepresentation, provision of false information or material breach of these Terms, after giving such notice or opportunity to remedy as may be required by applicable law or reasonably appropriate in the circumstances.

6. Course Materials and Intellectual Property

6.1. All materials created or supplied by Delta for the Course, including presentations, lecture notes, recordings, slides, question banks, mock tests, study guides, graphics, logos and other content ("Course Materials"), are owned by Delta or are used by Delta under appropriate permission. All intellectual property rights in those materials are reserved.

6.2. Subject to compliance with these Terms and payment of the applicable fee, Delta grants the Student a limited, personal, non-exclusive, non-transferable and revocable licence to access and use the Course Materials solely for the Student's own learning and examination preparation.

6.3. The Student must not copy, record, reproduce, publish, distribute, sell, sublicense, share login credentials, upload to a public platform, modify or commercially exploit any Course Materials, in whole or in part, without Delta's prior written consent.

6.4. The Student must not record live sessions or share recordings, session links or access credentials with any other person unless Delta has expressly permitted this in writing. Delta may take reasonable steps to protect its Course Materials and enforce its intellectual property rights.

7. Code of Conduct and Academic Integrity

7.1. Students must conduct themselves respectfully and professionally, comply with reasonable instructions given by Delta's instructors and staff, and follow the rules communicated for the Course and its delivery platforms.

7.2. Students must not engage in disruptive, abusive, harassing, discriminatory, threatening, dishonest or fraudulent conduct, or interfere with the learning experience of other participants.

7.3. Students must not engage in plagiarism, impersonation, unauthorised collaboration, falsification of attendance or assessment records, or any other form of academic dishonesty.

7.4. Delta may issue a warning, restrict participation, suspend access or terminate a Student's enrolment for serious or repeated misconduct, misuse of Course Materials, academic dishonesty or material breach of these Terms. Any action affecting fees or refunds will be handled in accordance with the applicable Payment and Refund Policy and UAE law.

8. Disclaimers and Limitation of Liability

8.1. Delta will use reasonable care in arranging and delivering the Course. However, the Course is provided as an educational service and Delta does not warrant that the Course Materials or instruction will be error-free, uninterrupted or sufficient to ensure a particular examination result or professional outcome.

8.2. To the extent permitted by applicable law, Delta will not be liable for losses arising from matters outside its reasonable control, including changes to IMA requirements or examination arrangements, decisions made by IMA or an examination provider, third-party platform failures, internet or power disruptions, or the Student's failure to meet examination or certification requirements.

8.3. Nothing in these Terms excludes or limits liability to the extent that such exclusion or limitation is prohibited by applicable law, including liability for fraud, wilful misconduct or any other liability that cannot lawfully be excluded.

8.4. The Student remains responsible for their own study, examination decisions, compliance with external examination rules and use of any information provided during the Course.

9. Data Protection and Privacy

9.1. The Student must provide accurate, current and complete personal information for registration and administration of the Course.

9.2. Delta may collect and process the Student's personal data for enrolment, payment administration, Course delivery, attendance and progress records, communication, customer support, legal compliance and related legitimate business purposes, in accordance with applicable UAE data protection laws and Delta's applicable privacy notice.

9.3. Delta may share relevant information with its service providers, instructors, payment processors, learning-platform providers or competent authorities where reasonably necessary for the purposes above or where required by law. Delta will not otherwise disclose personal data except in accordance with applicable law and its privacy notice.

10. Amendments, Course Changes and Cancellation

10.1. Delta may make reasonable amendments to these Terms and reasonable changes to the Course structure, content, timetable, instructors or delivery arrangements. Material changes will be communicated to Students through an appropriate channel.

10.2. Delta may postpone, suspend or cancel a Course or a session where reasonably necessary, including due to insufficient enrolment, instructor unavailability, technical issues or circumstances beyond Delta's reasonable control. Delta will communicate the available arrangements, which may include rescheduling, an alternative delivery arrangement or a refund where applicable under the Payment and Refund Policy and UAE law.

10.3. Any amendment to these Terms will apply prospectively from the date notified, unless otherwise required by law. A change will not retrospectively remove rights that have already accrued to the Student.

11. Term and Termination

11.1. These Terms take effect on the earlier of the date the Student accepts them or the date Delta confirms the Student's enrolment ("Effective Date"), and remain in force until completion of the Course unless terminated earlier in accordance with these Terms.

11.2. Delta may terminate or suspend enrolment for non-payment, material misrepresentation, serious misconduct, academic dishonesty, misuse of Course Materials or other material breach of these Terms, subject to applicable law.

11.3. Termination will not affect rights, remedies or obligations accrued before termination. Any refund or amount payable following termination will be determined under the Payment and Refund Policy and applicable law.

12. General

12.1. If any provision of these Terms is held to be invalid or unenforceable, that provision will be severed or limited to the minimum extent necessary, and the remaining provisions will continue in effect.

12.2. A failure or delay by Delta in exercising a right under these Terms will not operate as a waiver of that right.

12.3. These Terms, together with the registration details and any policy expressly incorporated by reference, constitute the agreement between Delta and the Student in relation to the Course.

12.4. The Student may not transfer their enrolment or rights under these Terms to another person without Delta's prior written consent.

13. Governing Law and Dispute Resolution

13.1. These Terms are governed by the applicable federal laws of the United Arab Emirates and the laws in force in the Emirate of Dubai.

13.2. The parties will first attempt to resolve any dispute arising out of or in connection with these Terms through good-faith discussions. If the dispute is not resolved within thirty (30) days after written notice of the dispute, either party may refer the matter to the competent courts of the Emirate of Dubai, subject to applicable law.

14. Acknowledgement and Acceptance

14.1. By submitting a registration form electronically, the Student confirms that they have read, understood and agreed to these Terms, and acknowledges that the Course is a preparatory course only and does not itself award the CMA certification.